

Here are some tips for handling conference and ring binder folders

When buying conference and ring binder folders, always advise customers to treat them with care:

- do not overstretch the handles and do not carry any heavy objects in the conference and ring binder folders
- do not open the folder more than 180°, otherwise the spine will bend over and the zip can be damaged
- when opening the folder, always ensure that the zip is fully open, otherwise there is a risk of the zip becoming defective
- do not put anything thicker than the folder itself in the folder otherwise the zip will be damaged due to excessive tension or the seams could tear
- do not put anything thicker than the compartment itself in the compartments, otherwise the compartments will expand
- handle the ring mechanism with care when opening and closing
- when pulling in and out of bags , compartments, etc. make sure that the outside of the folder is not scratched or abraded
- do not clean the folder with harsh cleaning agents
- protect from moisture
